MORE WAYS TO PLAY

Switcheroo

Try this twist for even more mix-and-match fun. Whenever a player spins and the arrow points to a Cootie bug part they don't need, they get to choose: Keep the part they already have, or, ask another player to trade the same kind of part. If both players agree, they can switch!

Head Start

Get ahead—or practice patience! Each player chooses a body at the beginning of the game, but does not pick up a head yet. The first part a player collects must be a Cootie bug head. To get it, you must spin and land on the wild bug!

On your turn, spin:

- If the spinner points to the wild bug, yippee! Collect a head to attach to your Cootie bug body.
- If the spinner points to a part other than the wild bug (before you have collected a head), you cannot collect that part yet. Better luck next time! Play continues to the next player.

Once a player's Cootie bug has a head, they many continue taking turns spinning and collecting all other parts in any order.
